

CPWD Actually Cares About You and Your Child Personal Home Health Caregiving Services

There are a lot of Parent Caregiver companies out there to choose from. Some pay more than others, some are bigger or smaller, others offer different perks.

What makes the Center for People With Disabilities (CPWD) unique is that they are a family-style Home Health organization. As one parent caregiver said:

"The most important thing to me is that they actually care about my child! Unlike other companies where I was just a number and would get different nurses all the time, even the CEO of CPWD knows my child's name, and they have a care plan that takes into account all the critical things that only I would know as the parent. While they are not the biggest company, they are the best in terms of personally caring about us."

Ultimately, we're all doing our best to help our kids live the best lives possible, and to get the benefits and support that we need to run our lives, too. Choosing the right company to work with is an important step in taking care of our children and ourselves. CPWD offers:

- Easy, low-effort enrollment. You're busy, let CPWD take care of that.
- Back-up support designed to your personal specifications for your child.
- 24/7 emergency support.
- Access to expert feedback and the latest in care best practices
- Pay for doing what you are already doing - taking care of your loved one.
- And more...

To find out more and connect with CPWD, visit: www.cpwd.org/parent-caregivers or contact:

Lisa Nelson, Home Health Administrator
Lisa@cpwd.org
(303) 442-8662 x 223

Thank you!

P.S. The only requirements for CPWD's program are:

- 1) Parents/relatives caring for children with significant disabilities of any age
- 2) People living in Boulder or Larimer County
- 3) Children of any age who are either on or would qualify for Medicaid

www.CPWD.org